25X1 5. [] Lunched with Seymour Friedin, in the office of Senator Thomas J. Dodd, who showed me a letter Chairman Fulbright, Senate Foreign Relations Committee, had sent to members of the Foreign Relations Committee, deploring the damage done by a recent leak of a sensitive report prepared by Pat Holt of the Committee staff. In his letter Fulbright instructed each Committee member to appoint a single staff assistant who should be solely responsible in the member's absence for receiving and protecting security of all classified material "received from the Committee."

25X1 7. [] During our visit with Representative Brotzman, I responded orally to his letter of 21 January []
25X1 [] a Denver, Colorado resident engaged in translation work. I advised the Congressman that contrary to information given out by [] this Agency had not engaged in any contract work with him. I also mentioned that Mr. Charles Kendrick, Administrative Assistant to Senator Peter H. Dominick (R., Colo.), was quite familiar with [] and his activities. Representative Brotzman is quite provoked that [] has been giving out erroneous information implying that he has endorsed [] and his associates.

25X1 9. [] Met with Mr. Richard A. Barton, Subcommittee on Position Classification staff, House Post Office and Civil Service Committee, and reviewed the Committee considerations on H.R. 13008, a bill to improve position classification systems within the Executive Branch. Mr. Barton told me that it is his opinion the bill will go through executive session of the Committee tomorrow with the addition of two amendments. The Committee amendment will be offered to establish an advisory committee to assist the Civil Service Commission in the study outlined in H.R. 13008. The other amendment is of interest to the Agency. It will provide authority for the Civil Service Commission to exempt agencies from inclusion in the study where necessary for good cause. Mr. Barton pointed out that Committee considerations included the understanding that Agency relations with the Civil Service Commission are such that we do not need specific mention and in consequence the bill does not specify particular agencies for exemption by the Civil Service Commission. 25X1

Remarks: You may recall that when this legislation was first being considered you and Bob Bannerman briefed Joe Winslow, of the Committee staff, in May 1968, on our position classification system. The bill now reported out appears entirely satisfactory from the Agency standpoint since it authorizes the Civil Service Commission to exempt certain agencies from the Commission's classification study.  Legislative Counsel (over)

Jack. Remember?
think we do not need specific mention. However,
lets suppose our relations
with C S C weren't so good. Could we fall back on our arms
legislation?

Remarks:

Colonel White:

Regarding your question on H. R. 13008, I think we can fall back on our legislation to protect our interests. The protection of intelligence sources and methods provisos in the 1947 and 1949 Acts, could be cited as a basis for refusing to furnish information to CSC. Although CSC could argue that H. R. 13008 language supersedes these provisos on the points involved, they cannot compel the Director's compliance. Under H. R. 13008 the coordinated system is to cover all civilian positions "to the greatest extent practicable." Once the statutory conflict issue is raised it would not be practicable to include Agency positions in the Civil Service study and the ensuing legislative recommendations. John Warner agrees with this view.
